TOOLKITS FOR ADDRESSING PSEA

INTRODUCTION

As Canadians and the global community grapple with different forms of gender-based violence, Canada's international development and humanitarian sector, in partnership with the Canadian government, are playing a prominent role to effectively reduce the number of incidents related to sexual exploitation and abuse. Through a feminist approach, Digna - a Centre of Expertise on the Prevention of Sexual Exploitation and Abuse at the Canadian Council for International Co-operation and funded by Global Affairs Canada - aims to provide organizations with best practices and practical tools to enable 1) work towards the prevention of sexual exploitation and abuse (SEA), and 2) address SEA incidents in a more informed way, having a survivor-centered approach as the base for action.

In order to publicly and broadly address the topic, Digna was going to hold a national conference in Ottawa, on March 25th, 2020. Due to the COVID-19 pandemic crisis, and to comply with the public health agencies' measures and recommendations to keep people safe and prevent the spread of the disease, the event was postponed.

While the conference is on hold, Digna continued to work on the collection of data and the development of materials related to the PSEA. Four topics particularly addressed in the toolkits include: developing a PSEA policy and code of conduct, reaching partners and beneficiaries, risk assessment, and processing a disclosure, among others.

The toolkits explore strategies that can be used while working towards the prevention of SEA. Based on the database of resources under compilation by Digna, we have developed eight different toolkits. In general terms, they unpack what many different organizations from the international development and humanitarian sector have done to address SEA. This includes their approaches to managing risk, their strategies and the best practices they have put forth. This document provides the full set of toolkits, each available individually on Digna's website. Overall, the eight toolkits provide over forty straightforward and practical documents. Each toolkit also contains a foreword and a short commentary on its content. In addition, the complete bibliographical references of each one of the documents are available, as well as the website where they can be found and downloaded. The next page has a summary of the eight toolkits.

Digna is committed to providing your organization with clear and useful tools. We hope they will help your work developing PSEA policies, as well as reaching partners and beneficiaries in a respectful and ethical way.

A) EXAMPLES OF CODES OF CONDUCT / POLICY PROGRAMS

FOREWORD

This toolkit aims to provide your organization with guidance for the development of policy programs on the Prevention of Sexual Exploitation and Abuse (PSEA). The eleven documents gathered here were developed by several different organizations and have been selected among the Digna database. The documents are samples of principles, guidelines and codes of conduct, and might be used as examples for each organization to develop their own recommendations regarding PSEA.

Many of the codes of conduct listed here share six core principles. In addition, such documents explicitly present good practices and actions that should be carried out. For instance, the respect for fundamental human rights, and actions that are considered misconducts and should be avoided, such as engaging in relationships with beneficiaries. In general, the codes of conduct selected in this toolkit regard most particularly humanitarian workers; but Digna considers they should be extended to other members of the organization, its partners, and to the general population.

Digna deems some documents as particularly interesting for the development of organizations' guidelines. For example, the booklet developed by Concern Worldwide Ethiopia – document 4 in this toolkit – provides visuals to explain the Organizational Program Participants Protection Policy to community members. In turn, the table provided by Humanitarian Accountability Partnership (HAP) International – document 5 in this toolkit – merges core principles for a code of conduct and a statement of commitment on eliminating PSEA in a single document. For its part, the checklist developed by International Code of Conduct Association (ICoCA) – document 11 in this toolkit – is an easy way to examine which points have already been covered by the organization's policies.

Digna is committed to provide your organization with clear and useful tools. We hope they will help you develop PSEA policies, as well as reach partners and beneficiaries in a respectful and ethical way.

CODE OF CONDUCT FOR ALL WORKERS IN EMERGENCIES

This Code of Conduct has been developed for agencies and other actors that are involved in emergency response and reconstruction activities after an emergency. They have a duty of care to affected women, girls, boys and men of all ages and a responsibility to ensure that they are treated with dignity and respect. All workers should ensure that certain minimum standards of behaviour are observed, regardless if the person is on or off duty.

In order to prevent sexual exploitation and all forms of abuse including sexual, physical, emotional and neglect, the following core principles should be respected by anyone engaging in humanitarian assistance or taking part in reconstruction activities in Fiji:

- All workers have to ensure assistance is delivered in a way that is safe, respectful, with dignity, and equally accessible to women, girls, boys and men of different ages and abilities.
- Sexual exploitation and all forms of abuse by workers providing humanitarian assistance constitute acts of gross misconduct and are therefore grounds for termination of employment.
- Sexual activity with children (persons under the age of 18 years) is prohibited regardless of the age of majority or age of consent locally. Mistaken belief regarding the age of a child is not a defence.
- Exchange of money, employment, goods, services or false promises for sex including sexual favours or other forms of humiliating, degrading or exploitative behaviour is prohibited, including favouritism or procurement of such services for third parties. This includes exchange of assistance that is due to beneficiaries.
- Sexual relationships between humanitarian workers and affected women, girls, boys and men, are strongly discouraged since they are based on inherently unequal power dynamics. Such relationships undermine the credibility and integrity of humanitarian aid work.
- Where a worker develops concern or suspicions regarding sexual abuse and exploitation or other forms of abuse by a fellow worker, whether in the same agency or not, he or she must report such concerns via established reporting mechanisms.
- Workers providing humanitarian assistance are obliged to create and maintain an environment which prevents sexual exploitation and all forms of abuse and promotes the implementation of this Code of Conduct. Managers at all levels have particular responsibility to support and develop systems which maintain this environment.

4a. Common Codes of Conduct

Office of the Resident and Humanitarian Coordinator in the Philippines

Typhoon Haiyan Humanitarian Response Code of Conduct

All responding organisations and entities, including members of the UN system, international and national NGOs, military personnel, government authorities, civil society and private contractors have a duty of care to people affected by Typhoon Haiyan. This duty of care includes a responsibility to ensure that each individual, regardless of sex, age and ability, is treated with dignity and respect, receives assistance equally and safely, and that proper standards of behaviour and accountability are observed.

The women, men, girls and boys affected by this typhoon are the primary stakeholders of the humanitarian response and have a basic right to participate in the decisions that affect their lives, receive the information they need to make informed decisions and to complain if they feel the help they receive is not adequate or has unwelcomed consequences.

Sexual exploitation and abuse¹ (SEA) of those we seek to assist constitute the most serious breach of accountability towards the victims of the typhoon. It erodes the confidence and trust of affected communities and the host country in all those providing assistance. This damages our collective image and integrity.

All responders to this emergency are bound by the legal frameworks of their respective governing institutions. For example, the UN's Special Measures for Protection from Sexual Exploitation and Sexual Abuse² prohibits certain behaviours. These standards are widely accepted as non-negotiable by the humanitarian community, including the NGO community:

- Sexual activity with children (persons under the age of 18) regardless of the age of majority or consent locally. Mistaken belief in the age of a child is not a defence
- Sexual favours exchanged for any form of assistance, including food or non-food items
- Use of children or adults to procure sexual services for others
- Exchange of money, employment, goods or services for sex with prostitutes or any other member of the local population, visits to brothels or places which are declared off-limits

Further:

- Sexual relationships between staff and those receiving assistance are strongly discouraged
- Any suspicions of SEA by a fellow worker of the same or another agency must be reported via established reporting mechanisms
- Staff are obliged to create and maintain an environment that prevents SEA, and managers are particularly charged with developing systems that enable this.

Section 13 of the Government of the Philippines' Magna Carta of Women specifies that, in reference to women affected by disasters, "the State shall... ensure their full protection from sexual exploitation and other gender-based violence committed against them". Military personnel are also governed by such rules.

¹ Sexual exploitation means any actual or attempted abuse of a position of vulnerability, differential power, or trust, for sexual purposes, including, but not limited to, profiting monetarily, socially or politically from the sexual exploitation of another. Sexual abuse means the actual or threatened physical intrusion of a sexual nature, whether by force or under unequal or coercive conditions.

COMMON CODES OF CONDUCT

INTER-AGENCY PSEA-CBGM BEST PRACTICE GUIDE, 2016

Any violation of this Code of Conduct constitutes serious misconduct. SEA will be investigated and may lead to drastic disciplinary measures, including summary dismissal, suspension, immediate repatriation, and in the case of contractual partners, termination of the contract. Immunity, when it exists, will be waived by the Secretary-General should such immunity impede the course of justice.

TYPES OF REFERRAL TO CONSIDER

SAVE THE CHILDREN, SAFEGUARDING IN EMERGENCIES TOOLKIT, 2019, P. 21.

SAFE AND ETHICAL REFERRAL

As Save the Children's Sexual Violence Brief Programmatic Guidelines note, referral pathways should include the following information:

- Specific information on how and where a survivor can access services
- Types of services available (health, psychosocial, police/security, legal/judicial) and specific local contact information
- Any costs involved with accessing referral services (including transportation) and how these will be covered – Save the Children will cover these costs for survivors of abuse perpetrated by our staff, partners or volunteers. Survivors do not need to prove that the perpetrator works for us before receiving after-care funded by Save the Children – the most important thing is treatment.

- Programmatic sources of support available
- Any protocols for having someone accompany survivors (if needed)
- Follow up services and other forms of support

Be aware that some traditional justice systems (for example, local elders' groups) suggest that money from perpetrators, to give to a survivor of sexual abuse, or their family members, is an appropriate response to abuse. Others may recommend that the perpetrator marries the victim. Save the Children cannot engage in traditional justice mechanisms that are not in the best interest of children, and even where traditional justice mechanisms have been chosen by the survivor, an investigation is still required by Save the Children and support to the survivor/victim must also be offered by us, independently of the local or traditional justice mechanism.

TYPES OF REFERRAL

Children and adults in the community who experience abuse or harm due to Save the Children's action, or inaction, may have a variety of needs. You should include these on your referral pathway:

1. MEDICAL ASSISTANCE

- Post-exposure prophylaxis
- Treatment for sexually transmitted infections
- Emergency contraception
- Care of wounds
- Treatment for life-threatening complications
- Support for children conceived as a result of sexual abuse or exploitation; as well as their mother

2. PSYCHOSOCIAL ASSISTANCE

- Counselling, or local equivalent (survivor/victim support groups/organisations)
- Family mediation
- Reintegration assistance
- Community sessions

3. LEGAL ASSISTANCE OR SUPPORT TO ACCESS FORMAL JUSTICE

- Travel costs to visit a Police station
- Legal clinics or support groups
- Access to legal representation

4. PROTECTION ASSISTANCE

- Safe shelters
- Relocation assistance
- Transport assistance

OVERALL PRINCIPLES FOR A SURVIVOR-FOCUSED, TRAUMA-INFORMED APPROACH

SAVE THE CHILDREN, SAFEGUARDING IN EMERGENCIES TOOLKIT, 2019

Save the Children will also offer basic material assistance where needed (for example, food, clothes, hygiene kits, shelter) as well as support with school re-integration, livelihoods and family conflict resolution, where needed. All this support is offered on a case-by-case basis.

Access to basic mental health and psychosocial support is also available through Save the Children (sometimes through our own programming, if not then through local services), and access to legal services.

Save the Children's overall principles for a survivor-focused, trauma-informed approach are:

SAFETY:
the safety & security of the survivor is the priority

CONFIDENTIALITY:
must be strictly adhered to in all aspects of handling a safeguarding case

DO NO HARM:
take no actions that could make things worse for the survivor

INFORMATION:
must be stored safely within DATIX and all data protection requirements adhered to

BEST INTEREST:
all actions are determined by the best interest of the child or adult survivor; and in collaboration with them where possible

NON-DISCRIMINATION:
Save the Children provides fair and equal treatment to anyone in need of support as a result of a possible safeguarding violation(s)

EMPOWERMENT:
showing respect for the choices, wishes, rights and dignity of the survivor

WORKING:
with local survivor activist groups wherever possible to ensure responses are culturally and ethnically appropriate

B) EXAMPLES OF RISK ASSESSMENT AND MANAGEMENT

FOREWORD

This toolkit aims to provide your organization with guidance on risk assessment and management while working on the Prevention of Sexual Exploitation and Abuse (PSEA). The five documents gathered here were developed by different organizations and have been selected among the Digna database. The documents are samples of useful tools to identify risk indicators and strategies to manage them, and might be used as examples for each organization to develop their own risk management systems.

Some documents focus on the identification of risks, whereas others provide suggestions for mitigation. In addition, all the documents provide valuable tools on which aspects should be taken into consideration while conducting an objective risk assessment. In general, the documents are complementary, and Digna considers that a combination of the text and tables they bring forth would enhance the quality not only of the documents themselves, but of the work developed by the organization.

Digna deems some documents as particularly interesting for the development of organizations' risk management systems. For example, the risk assessment guidelines developed by Save the Children – document 2 in this toolkit – show the different sectors that should be taken into consideration while assessing risks. For its part, the tool presented by Nottinghamshire and Nottingham City Safeguarding Children Boards – document 5 in this toolkit – is a straightforward way of covering important risk-related aspects.

Digna is committed to provide your organization with clear and useful tools. We hope they will help your work while developing systems to objectively assess and manage risks related to PSEA.

RISK ASSESSMENT AND STRATEGIES FOR SAFE OPERATIONS AND PROGRAMMES ¹

This template forms part of the PSEA/SH Project in the Americas region and should be used in coordination with other tools e.g. Tool 1: Model SOPs for PSEA and complaint handling mechanisms and Tool 4: Steps to set-up a community-based complaint mechanism. This tool is intended to be used as part of the process any service provider undertakes to establish PSEA / SH systems and to be used by PSEA Focal Points and/or other personnel who have specific experience and expertise in protection of vulnerable persons as part of their role.

AREA	QUESTIONS TO CONSIDER FOR RISK ASSESSMENT	POSSIBLE MANAGEMENT STRATEGIES
PROFILE OF CONCERNED POPULATION	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> What is the demographic profile of the population in the target areas (e.g. sex, age, education level, income level, household size, percentage of female- and child-headed households, marriage age, religion, ethnicity, migration status, etc.)? What are some of their characteristics that may render them more susceptible to SEA? Which groups are particularly vulnerable?² 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Adapt awareness-raising efforts on SEA and complaint mechanisms to meet specific needs of target concerned populations e.g. high visibility at borders, transit areas Conduct targeted information campaigns for population groups that are highly susceptible to SEA e.g. LGBTI
PROFILE OF PERSONNEL	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Is there an adequate gender balance of personnel involved in provision of services and programming (i.e. at least 50% female), particularly of personnel directly engaging with affected women and children? Have personnel been sufficiently vetted e.g. background checks, references? Have personnel received a comprehensive induction on code of conduct, PSEA/SH and complaint mechanisms? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Re-adjust gender balance of personnel involved in service provision and direct work with concerned populations Recruit additional female personnel involved in direct service provision and operations Review HR files of personnel and conduct additional screening for previous misconduct where needed

RISK ASSESSMENT FOR PLANNED PROGRAMS

SAVE THE CHILDREN, SAFEGUARDING IN EMERGENCIES
TOOLKIT, 2019

In addition to ensuring that you have enough staff and funding, there are other, very practical steps that you will need to take to ensure our programmes are safe for children – one key step is risk assessing your programmes and processes. This will help to ensure that your programme is as safe as possible for children and adults.

When completing a risk assessment, the identification of risks should focus on risks that are “caused” by the implementation of Save the Children activities and by our staff, as well as risks that exist nearby, that we may accidentally expose children to (e.g. mines, armed groups, water that children can drown in).

WHAT SHOULD IT COVER?

For any risk assessment, consider different safeguarding risks associated with:

RISK ASSESSMENT FOR PLANNED PROGRAMMES

SAVE THE CHILDREN, SAFEGUARDING IN EMERGENCIES
TOOLKIT, 2019

WHO RUNS THE RISK ASSESSMENT?

Each sector lead is responsible for completing a safeguarding risk assessment for their own area. The overall risk assessment is co-owned by the Internal Controller (if you have one) and the Child Safeguarding national lead. Do review our sector-by-sector child safeguarding risk guidelines. You will need to regularly check that the mitigations outlined in the risk assessment are being delivered. This will include regular trips to field locations and programme sites. These visits should be surprise visits wherever possible (if security allows).

Remember that risk assessment and risk management are dynamic processes – doing a risk assessment only at the beginning of the response is not enough. You will need to work with the Internal Controller to continually monitor how effectively each sector is mitigating the safeguarding risks.

A key part of effective risk assessment is also ensuring that children are meaningfully engaged and sharing their views. One way to do this is to run a child-led safeguarding risk assessment workshop (for ages 5 – 12) find more information here.

INTERVENTION AND DISRUPTION STRATEGIES

CORNWALL AND THE ISLES OF SCILLY SAFEGUARDING CHILDREN BOARD (SCB), CHILDREN ABUSED THROUGH SEXUAL EXPLOITATION - RISK ASSESSMENT TOOLKIT, 2014

Intervention Strategies

Common strategies are outlined below:

1)	Disrupting the young person's relationship with other young people suspected of introducing them to adults involved in violence, gang activity, drugs and sexual exploitation.
2)	Disrupting the young person's contact with adults suspected of being involved in violence, drugs and sexual exploitation.
3)	Gather and record information to assist prosecution and disruption of adults or other young people suspected of being involved in violence, gang activity, drugs and sexual exploitation. Corroboration of evidence is very important to prevent reliance on the young person's statement.
4)	Promote positive relationships with family, friends and carers.
5)	Physically protect the young person. Emergency Protection Order or Police Protection if required and at the discretion of the relevant authority.
6)	Maintain contact whilst absent; 'compassion banking'.
7)	Enhance the return procedure to ensure it is a positive experience.
8)	Set clear boundaries to acceptable behaviour and motivate positive behaviour through reward.
9)	Empower the parent/carer/ foster carer, remember they are a key partner in protecting the child or young person and gathering information to disrupt perpetrators.
10)	Build the young person's self-esteem.
11)	Raise the young person's awareness of CSE and the dangers of risk taking behaviours.
12)	Consider health needs of young person.
13)	Involve the young person in diversionary activities.
14)	Make home a more attractive place to live.
15)	Achieve normality.
16)	Make school a more attractive place to go.
17)	Provide specialist support through other agencies.
18)	Plan on positive change for the future and set small targets to achieve monthly.
19)	Where a young person is refusing or reluctant to engage, and is involved in soliciting or grooming peers discuss with the Police.

This tool identifies which disruption tactics may be used for the individual child, who is responsible and can monitor the progress.

Strategic Aim	Intervention Options	Responsible	R	A	G
Disrupt the young person's relationship with other young people suspected of introducing them to adults involved in violence, gang activity and sexual exploitation.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Identify whom the young person is spending time with and recognise negative relationships. Prevent visits to the home by other young people who may either deliberately or unwittingly be recruiting the young person. Screen telephone calls to the home. Complete information report forms on known associates and any risk they pose.
Disrupt the young person's contact with adults or young people suspected of being involved in violence, drugs and sexual exploitation.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Implement the Abduction Warnings and Orders strategy. Recognise and acknowledge abusive relationships. Deny individuals suspected of abusing, grooming, or recruiting the young person access to the child's home. Secure mobile phones and Sim cards, particularly if supplied by abusers and pass to the Police. Consider removing mobile phones at night for the purpose of charging the batteries and monitor internet, call and text use.
Gather information to assist prosecution and disruption of adults suspected of being involved in violence, gang activity, drugs, sexual exploitation.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Obtain as much information as possible to identify associates and those who pose a risk to children and young people. Good information includes full names, nick names, telephone numbers, addresses and car registrations etc. Keep accurate records and retain the information on children's personal files; it is important to date and time the information and note who is involved in incidents and any interventions. Send information to the MARU and CSE Manager.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Note down any licensed body or property and send information to CSE Manager. Ensure all network group members are updated at meetings and as and when information is accessed. Be aware of specific agency responsibility and interventions re Abduction Orders, licensing remedies, checks on persons etc.
Promote positive relationships with family, friends and carers.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Carers/parents should be actively engaged in searching for the young person to show that they care. Promote positive relationships with family and friends. Promote the need for carers/parents to show attention. Encourage honesty. Reinforce the nature of the crime. Involve parents/young person in tackling the problem and in Network and CSE Meetings. Identify suitable long-term key workers who can befriend the young person.
Physically protect the young person.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> It is permissible to physically intervene to prevent a young person running from care as an emergency intervention. However, physical intervention does not offer a long-term risk management strategy and if the only way to prevent the young person repeatedly running away is by physically restraining the young person on a regular basis, an alternative placement should be considered. Consider removing and preserving clothing and passing it to the Police if it will aid the Police in an investigation Police and Social Care Protection Powers to be used as appropriate.
Maintain contact whilst absent.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Ring the young person's mobile phone. There must be 24/7 contact available so that the young person does not feel isolated during evenings or at weekends.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Ensure the number of the Missing People Helpline and Childline is in the young person's mobile phone address book or text the numbers to them. • Compassion banking - send text messages to the young person. Consider using 'text language' that the young person relates to, tell them you are worried and care about their safety and encourage them to contact you or another adult. • Consider informing appropriate outreach workers, Safer Neighbourhood Teams, border alerts (UKBA/UKHTC) and agencies in other cities such as Social Care, Police and specialist services. • If whereabouts are unknown consider publicity and posters; their design should be young person centred.
Enhance the return procedure to ensure it is a positive experience.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Identify an individual that the young person respects and wants to talk to. This person should conduct the return interview on every occasion wherever possible. This will ensure consistency and facilitate a positive relationship between the young person and the interviewer. • Interviews by Police Officers that are no more than an admonishment of the young person should be avoided, as these may exacerbate the situation. Threats to prosecute for wasting Police time or threats to take out an ASBO are rarely effective at engaging young people who regularly go missing, and are unlikely to positively change their behaviour. • Independent interviews should be arranged and would preferably be conducted by Staff who have received specialist training and have a good relationship with the young person.

Consider reward schemes i.e. monetary/ vouchers. Be flexible. Adopt a behaviour management strategy. Give the young person more independence in response to responsible behaviour.

C) EXAMPLES OF REPORT FORMS

FOREWORD

This toolkit aims to provide your organization with examples of report forms to be used in the programs on the Prevention of Sexual Exploitation and Abuse (PSEA). The four documents gathered here were developed by different organizations and have been selected among the Digna database. The documents are samples of report and referral forms, and instructions on how to proceed while processing a disclosure, and might be used as examples for each organization to develop their own forms regarding PSEA.

Digna deems some documents as particularly interesting for the development of this kind of form within the organizations. For example, the form produced by the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) – document 1 in this toolkit – is a very complete instrument to collect information after an incident has taken place. In turn, the list provided by Save the Children – document 3 in this toolkit – is a visually-friendly roll of recommendations (do's and don'ts) to help handle a spontaneous disclosure.

Digna is committed to provide your organization with clear and useful tools. We hope they will help your work while developing PSEA documents for processing disclosures.

Personal Information

Important

Gathering information at the time of reporting is a crucial element of the process. The report should be objective and precise, focusing on the facts and relevant information that will help when it is time to act.

When a child discloses maltreatment or abuse, make sure to ask the questions needed to have a clear understanding of what the child is saying and to ensure the security and welfare of the child. DO NOT SEARCH FURTHER.

- Inform the person that all information given in the complaint will remain confidential.
- Be receptive of the complainant and listen to what he or she has to say.
- Write a clear record of what is said by the complainant in his own words. Take the time to cross-check with the complainant that you understand everything before writing.
- Allow the complainant to read what you have written. If the complainant is illiterate, read out the text to ensure that what you have written is what he or she meant. Ask the person if he or she is satisfied with what you have written. If they are not, correct the text with them.

HANDLING A SPONTANEOUS DISCLOSURE: DO'S AND DON'TS

SAVE THE CHILDREN, SAFEGUARDING IN EMERGENCIESTOOLKIT, 2019

Please do not proactively encourage disclosure, unless you are well-trained on GBV, PSEA or Child Safeguarding.

HANDLING A SPONTANEOUS DISCLOSURE:

DO...

- ✓ Allow the survivor to approach you
- ✓ Ask how you can support with any urgent basic needs
- ✓ Ask the survivor if they are comfortable talking to you or would prefer to talk to someone else
- ✓ Provide practical support like offering water or a private place (e.g. no risk of being overheard – but not out of eyesight or hearing of another adult if with a child)
- ✓ Offer to secure an immediate place of safety if required (especially if they have just fled a traumatic situation and can't articulate what they need)
- ✓ Try to listen more than you speak – it may take time for a survivor to share what they need to
- ✓ Treat any information shared with confidentiality, including identity of survivor and the subject of concern, but do be clear on the limits of confidentiality (for example, you must report and act if the person disclosing is a child or is at immediate risk of harm)
- ✓ Share culturally appropriate statements of comfort and support
- ✓ Share information on all services available
- ✓ Share with the survivor of the process of reporting and next steps; when they can expect to hear more

DO NOT...

- ✗ React in a culturally inappropriate or overly emotional way – survivors need you to be in control and able to listen and effectively support – they shouldn't have to worry about supporting you
- ✗ Promise to keep secrets – you'll need to tell someone who can help, or make any promises that you cannot keep (for example, regarding prosecution)
- ✗ Ignore someone who approaches you and shares a safeguarding concern or experience
- ✗ Pressure the survivor into sharing more information
- ✗ Take photos or record the conversation (taking written notes is OK, but explain what you are doing and why)
- ✗ Make comparisons between the person's experience and others (including your own, if applicable)
- ✗ Openly doubt or contradict what someone tells you
- ✗ Exaggerate your skills or influence, or make false promises or provide false information
- ✗ Offer your own advice/opinion;
- ✗ Assume that you know what someone wants or needs
- ✗ Make assumptions about someone's experience

D) EXAMPLES OF FLOWCHARTS

FOREWORD

This toolkit aims to provide your organization with flowcharts to support the development of programs on the Prevention of Sexual Exploitation and Abuse (PSEA). The six documents gathered here were produced by several different organizations and have been selected among the Digna database. The documents are samples of visually-friendly diagrams, and might be used as examples for each organization to develop their own pathways regarding the procedures on PSEA.

The flowcharts listed here vary in complexity. They all present good practices, whether regarding the actions to be taken immediately after the receipt of a complaint or disclosure; or, in more general terms, the conduction of monitoring and evaluation of the PSEA programs.

Digna deems some documents as particularly useful for the development of organizations' procedures.

For example, the pathways found in the Inter-Agency PSEA-CBCM Best Practice Guide – document 1 in this toolkit – comprise four spheres of action and it is a very complete flowchart kit example. In turn, the cycles shown by Regional Safe Spaces Network / UNHCR and Save the Children – documents 5 and 6 in this toolkit – are simple and straightforward visuals on the processes to be followed by the organizations for constant action and evaluation.

Digna is committed to provide your organization with clear and useful tools. We hope they will help your work while presenting information on PSEA in an organized and visually-friendly way.

Where the complaint / report concerns another service provider the PSEA Focal Point should:

Complete a Complaint Referral Form (password protected and confidentially) to the concerned service provider PSEA Focal Point or Manager, or Investigative Body, by email or hand-posted letter, as soon as possible.

- Where the concerned service provider's PSEA Focal Point is the subject or involved in the complaint or allegation, refer the complaint to their Alternate PSEA Focal Point, Manager, or Investigative Body, as soon as possible.
- Where both the PSEA Focal Points are involved, raise the complaint with the senior management of your agency or an established investigative body (e.g. see details below) as soon as possible.

See 'Annex VII' for list of regional PSEA Focal Points and Alternates, and investigative Bodies²⁵.

RESPONSE OF PSEA FOCAL POINT OF THE SERVICE PROVIDER OF CONCERN

- Respect the confidentiality and wishes of the survivor
- Keep information on strict needs to know basis
- Refer to agency Complaint and Investigation Policy and Procedures

Alert the relevant Response and Protection Coordinator (Refugee Response Coordinator, Humanitarian Coordinator, Refugees and Migrant Response Coordinators, Protection Coordinator, PSEA & Safe Spaces Network Coordinator) s, to ensure an adequate response to potential protection needs of the allegedly affected person(s) in consultation with investigative services.

INVESTIGATION INITIATED BY INVESTIGATION BODY OR SENIOR MANAGEMENT OF SERVICE PROVIDER In line with agency investigation policy and procedures and the Regional Inter-Agency Complaint Referral Mechanism

Upon planning an investigation, agencies are encouraged to contact the Regional or National (as appropriate) level UNHCR PSEA Focal Point on potential risks for concerned populations as a measure to ensure adequate security and safety for survivors and witnesses throughout an investigation process.

THE PROTECTION NEEDS OF THE SURVIVOR, COMPLAINANT, WITNESSES, WHISTLE-BLOWERS, ALLEGED PERPETRATOR OR SUBJECT OF THE COMPLAINT, are considered and referrals are made to the appropriate Protection Services via the RSSN service referral online map and SGBV/CP, and other protection referral pathways.

- Refer to protection, SGBV, CP services included in the RSSN service referral online map and the national referral pathways for information on protection services and provide comprehensive information on available services and support to survivors of SEA/SH / SGBV
- If agreed and requested by survivor, obtain informed consent and make referrals to protection services
- When family/guardians make a decision on behalf of the child, ensure the best interest of the child is given priority. A trusted adult should be accompanying the child. Assent will be sought from the child to proceed with service referrals.
- Accompany the survivor to assist his/her in accessing services
- For survivors of sexual violence ensure immediate (within 72 hours) access to medical care.

VISION FOR EFFECTIVE COMPLAINT MECHANISMS

TOOLS

ACCESSIBILITY

Can be used by as many people as possible, from as many groups as possible, in all locations

TRANSPARENCY

Members of concerned populations know it exists, have input into its development, and possess enough information on how to access it and ensure it is adhered to. Consultation with and participation by concerned populations will help ensure that your complaint mechanism is confidential, accessible, safe and transparent.

TIMELINESS

An effective mechanism will deal with complaint in a timely manner. The timeline for acknowledgment and response should be stated in the procedures.

REPORTING

The outcomes of an investigation should be reported to the relevant parties. Learning from complaints and investigations need to be integrated into adjusting programme activities, policies and practices.

5. VISION FOR EFFECTIVE COMPLAINT MECHANISMS

For complaint mechanisms to be effective and to be trusted by concerned populations, and personnel, complaints must be responded to and complainants should be kept informed of the outcome of action taken, within an appropriate timeframe. This is known as 'closing-the-loop' – if feedback is not provided, then the loop is not considered 'closed' and the system cannot be truly effective or accountable to all parties involved.

THE SAFEGUARDING CYCLE

SAVE THE CHILDREN, SAFEGUARDING IN EMERGENCIES
TOOLKIT, 2019

EXIT PLANNING

When Save the Children finishes our humanitarian operations in a certain area, we often hand over project responsibility to partners – either institutional (e.g. local government), implementing partners (local NGOs or community leaders or groups). Where this happens, it is important that you spend some time training the community leader, groups or partner on safeguarding, to ensure that they are able to continue operating in a safe way.

It is also critical to ensure that any open safeguarding cases in the area are still supported by Save the Children. Responsibility for open Save the Children cases (and any new cases) cannot be handed over to partners.

You will need to work with the operations team to find a way to continue your case management of the safeguarding/PSEA case. This might involve you or the Survivor's Advocate communicating by phone with the survivor or setting certain times and locations to meet in future to discuss the progress of the case and any additional support needs.

If Save the Children's operations included medical or psychosocial support to GBV survivors, and the survivor has been accessing these services, it is crucial that his or her access to this support (whoever is taking it over) continues uninterrupted. This is particularly important if the survivor is receiving HIV treatment, or psychosocial treatment.

E) EXAMPLES OF PSEA AUDIT AND SELF-ASSESSMENT / CONTACTS WITHIN THE ORGANIZATIONS AND PARTNERS

FOREWORD

This toolkit aims to provide your organization with lists and checklists useful for the development of programs on the Prevention of Sexual Exploitation and Abuse (PSEA). The six documents gathered here were developed by different organizations and have been selected among the Digna database. The documents are samples of contact lists and checklists, and might be used as examples for each organization to produce their own call trees and self-assessment forms for PSEA.

The documents listed here regard the preparedness and self-assessment of the organizations' procedures.

Digna deems some documents as particularly useful for the development of similar tools within the organizations.

For example, the list of contacts provided by Regional Safe Spaces Network / UNHCR – document 3 in this toolkit – comprises a prompt way of knowing who to reach out to within both organizations and partners, and highlights the importance of this information to be periodically updated. For its part, the checklist developed also by Regional Safe Spaces Network / UNHCR – document 5 in this toolkit – is a complete instrument for self-auditing regarding preparedness for PSEA.

Digna is committed to provide your organization with clear and useful tools. We hope they will help your work while developing PSEA instruments that allow self-assessment and updated available information on contacts.

TOOL 7

PSEA/SH SELF-AUDIT CHECKLIST

<https://enketo.unhcr.org/x/#H7Z8Xocn>

This self-auditing tool has been developed as part of the Americas Regional PSEA Network to support service providers (offices, agencies) to understand where they stand in relation to preventing sexual exploitation and abuse (SEA) and sexual harassment (SH). The self-audit process supports the identification of gaps and provides direction on the next steps you and your agency can take to strengthen ongoing work to protect those with whom we work.

As part of continuing efforts to strengthen the prevention of SEA/SH in the Americas, the results of the self-audit can be shared with the PSEA Network Focal Points. This can promote a collective response to PSEA/SH and can assist service providers to take specific measures to address and focus on identified weaknesses.

For the purposes of this checklist, the term 'Code of Conduct' refers to a service provider's own Code of Conduct for its personnel, as long as it makes explicit its commitment to PSEA/SH and incorporates the PSEA/SH principles.

For each statement, each box should be ticked:
A = fully in place; B = partially in place; C = not in place.

Grouping the results into Mostly As/Bs or Cs, will give an indication of your agency's progress. It should also be noted that boxes highlighted in yellow are considered to be essential and therefore a priority for PSEA/SH. If these are "B" or "C", then these would be critical areas to focus on.

1	RECRUITMENT AND INTERVIEWS	A	B	C
A	The service provider has a Gender Policy and monitors the gender-balance of staffing and strives to be gender-balanced, at all levels of responsibility, in both main and sub-offices and among nationally and internationally contracted staff and community workers.
B	During the recruitment / interview process, the service provider discusses policies regarding relations between staff and concerned population and assesses interviewee's responses to Code of Conduct related questions.
C	References are rigorously gathered and follow a specific format /checklist while respecting the principle of confidentiality. They should include questions about disciplinary actions.
D	All personnel (e.g. staff, consultants, contractors, volunteers) contracts or templates include the main principles of the Code of Conduct or have the Code of Conduct attached, which should also be available in the language of the relevant country.
E	All job advertisements reaffirm the provider's/agency's commitment to the Code of Conduct and PSEA/SH.
F	Applicants must fill in job application forms, which require the applicant to give information about criminal convictions, reasons for leaving previous jobs and periods when no employer is listed.

F) EXAMPLES OF FEEDBACK FORMS

FOREWORD

This toolkit aims to provide your organization with feedback forms for the Prevention of Sexual Exploitation and Abuse (PSEA) programs. The two documents gathered here were produced by different organizations and have been selected among the Digna database. The documents are samples of feedback forms and might be used as examples for each organization to develop their own materials regarding PSEA.

The forms listed here regard different groups of people. The one developed by Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) – document 1 in this toolkit – is related to the communication with the victim/complainant, whereas the ones provided by Regional Safe Spaces Network // UNHCR – document 2 in this toolkit – regard broader groups of interested populations.

Digna is committed to provide your organization with clear and useful tools. We hope they will help your work while developing PSEA feedback forms that take into consideration both the survivors and the larger groups involved in the organizations' programs.

TOOL A: INTRODUCTORY PARAGRAPH

 General guidance that should be contextualized and adapted to use as an introductory briefing for the consultation group.*

My name is _____ and this is my colleague _____. I work for _____ and she/he works for _____. [Introduce your role, your agency etc. if not known. Ask for names and any other basic information you would prefer].

We have invited you here today to ask for your feedback on how we can improve our services to you. We want to improve the ways we communication on important issues with you. And how we can set-up clear and confidential ways for you to raise any questions or concerns that you have about our work or about the way our personnel behave in their work and when delivering services.

There can sometimes be situations where personnel do not act in the way that is expected of them by their agency. Humanitarian workers, personnel and service providers have strict rules of behaviour which must be followed. [Using the IASC 6 Basic Standards for PSEA² clearly explain what the rules of behaviour/conduct are and what is prohibited by service providers. Explain that personnel are dismissed if they do no conduct in the right way or do wrong. This includes: any humiliating, degrading or exploitative behaviour; any form of exploitation and abuse (including sexual) of a member of the concerned population; sexual activity with children; any exchange of money, jobs, goods or services for sex or sexual favours; sexual relationships between personnel and concerned population. Explain that personnel are obliged to report any suspicions/incidents of wrong-doing by any personnel from any service provider. Explain rules of confidentiality are respected at all times].

We want to make sure that you have ways of communicating with service providers, which are best, safe and confidential for you. Your feedback is important to us, so that we set-up ways to communicate on these sensitive issues that will work best for you and in your situations. Our intention is to ensure that you can raise a concern or report incidents at any point to the most relevant personnel, and from any service provider, and that you receive a clear response safely and confidentially.

Your participation is completely voluntary and don't feel that you must answer questions that you are not happy to do so. We would like to have a general discussion and we will not ask for your specific stories or names. If at any time you would like to ask us something individually then please see either of us the end of the meeting.

Other than our discussion and the information that we will share with you regarding the issues we discuss, there are no other direct benefits related to this meeting.

We will keep this conversation confidential, and we will treat everything that you say today with respect, and we will only share the answers you give as general responses. We ask that you also keep everything confidential and private to this discussion in this space.

Is it ok if we take some notes to record the main points of our conversation?

We expect our discussion to last for at most an hour.

Do you have any questions before we begin?

G) EXAMPLES OF MONITORING SURVEYS / EVALUATION TOOLS

FOREWORD

This toolkit aims to provide your organization with monitoring and evaluation tools for the development of programs on the Prevention of Sexual Exploitation and Abuse (PSEA). The five documents gathered here were developed by different organizations and have been selected among the Digna database. The documents are samples of monitoring surveys and evaluation tools, and might be used as examples for each organization to develop their own materials regarding PSEA.

The questionnaires listed here comprise a broad spectrum of monitoring procedures on PSEA. In addition, such documents present good practices for evaluation regarding both the organizations themselves and the ultimate beneficiaries of PSEA programs. In general, the surveys selected in this toolkit can be utilized separately or combined, and could be extended to reach both the organization and their partners.

Digna deems some documents as particularly useful for the development of organizations' evaluation tools. For example, the evaluation guides developed by the National GBV Task Force in Liberia - document 2 in this toolkit - exemplifies how to address both governmental and non-governmental agencies. In turn, the survey developed by the Committee for the Coordination of Services to Displaced Persons in Thailand (CCSDPT) - document 3 in this toolkit - comprises questions regarding not only knowledge on PSEA, but also attitudes and practices. For its part, the mapping survey from Regional Safe Spaces Network / UNHCR - document 5 in this toolkit - assesses the organization and maps their current measures on PSEA.

Digna is committed to provide your organization with clear and useful tools. We hope they will help your work while developing PSEA monitoring and evaluation tools.

INTRODUCTION

- (give name) I am a researcher with the Humanitarian Accountability Partnership, or "HAP." HAP is an NGO in the country of Switzerland. Through training, HAP helps aid agencies build their capacity to prevent and respond to exploitation and abuse of beneficiaries by their staff.
- HAP is independent and does not provide health, education, food or other services to refugees or other populations affected by humanitarian crises

In other situations, we have heard about...

- An aid worker distributing food rations asks young girls to go off with them in exchange for extra food.
- A resettlement registrar tells a refugee that if she's his girlfriend, her resettlement will go more quickly than others ahead of her. *(Aid workers are foreign, national or local staff. They include salaried, incentive or volunteer workers--anyone giving goods/services in (insert country or camp name). **
 - We're here to learn more about sexual exploitation and abuse reporting/responses from you.
 - We're not here to collect information on specific cases.
 - Why do we want to know? Your feedback will help HAP and aid agencies improve their work. Information we learn will be included in a report which will be completed by March 2008.
 - If you choose to talk with us, our discussion will take around an hour.
 - We won't write down or use your name. Whatever you say to us is confidential.
 - We'll repeat key points at the end of this discussion to be sure we've clearly understood your opinions/experiences
 - If you don't want to talk to us or become uncomfortable with this discussion, it is okay to leave at any time.
 - Are you willing to participate? May I have your permission to begin?

* Note: The BBC researchers found it helpful to come up with a list of possible SEA scenarios with translators and keep using them to illustrate and explain SEA if a discussion group got stuck.

1. We talked about... (offer other SEA examples) Do similar problems happen here? Is SEA a concern for you? If so, how could/do aid workers sexually abuse beneficiaries?
2. In what ways do aid agencies stop sexual exploitation and abuse by their staff and volunteers? Do you think their prevention efforts work? Why or why not?
3. Have aid organizations asked you and your community how SEA by aid workers or volunteers should be prevented? When? How have aid organisations acted on your suggestions?

4. If you were concerned about sexual abuse or exploitation by an aid worker, would you report it? If yes, ask how would you report it? How and to whom would you report the problem?

6. Have you ever heard about any investigations into SEA related misconduct by an aid worker?
7. What were the results of the investigation? What did you think of the results? How were they shared with your community?

TOOLKIT FOR ADDRESSING PSEA

TOOLKIT

EXAMPLES OF VISUALS

H) EXAMPLES OF VISUALS

FOREWORD

This toolkit aims to provide your organization with examples of visuals to help the development of programs on the Prevention of Sexual Exploitation and Abuse (PSEA). The four documents gathered here were developed by different organizations and have been selected among the Digna database. The documents are samples of visual information materials and might be used as examples for each organization to develop their own visually-friendly documents regarding PSEA.

Digna deems some documents as particularly useful for the development of organizations' visuals. For example, the poster produced by Concern Worldwide Rwanda – document 1 in this toolkit – shows how a summarized set of information can be easily and collectively produced alongside interested groups of people.

In turn, the materials produced by Regional Safe Spaces Network/UNHCR – document 3 in this toolkit – exemplify how to merge organizations' procedures in printable documents to be readily available.

Digna is committed to provide your organization with clear and useful tools. We hope they will help your work while developing visually-friendly information materials on PSEA.

LIST OF DOCUMENTS

Program Participant Protection Policy: Poster – Concern Worldwide Rwanda, 2000.

SEXUAL EXPLOITATION AND ABUSE, AND SEXUAL HARASSMENT are NOT ACCEPTABLE behaviour by humanitarian personnel.

WE ARE CLEAR THAT:

- We must respect the local population of concern with respect and dignity at all times
- Sexual exploitation and abuse threaten the lives of those we are here to serve and support.
- Asking for anything from concerned populations in exchange for providing services is prohibited.
- Asking for sexual favors, sex, money or goods from concerned populations are prohibited.
- Sexual exploitation and abuse constitute acts of gross misconduct and are therefore grounds for termination of employment.
- Any form of sexual harassment against a fellow colleague or service provider is unacceptable and will not be tolerated.

ALL PERSONNEL MUST ABIDE BY THESE RULES:

SEXUAL ACTIVITY WITH CHILDREN (PERSONS UNDER THE AGE OF 18) IS PROHIBITED regardless of the age of majority or age of consent locally. Mistaken belief regarding the age of a child is not a defense.

EXCHANGE OF MONEY, EMPLOYMENT, GOODS, OR SERVICES FOR SEX IS PROHIBITED, including sexual favors or other forms of humiliating, degrading or exploitative behaviour. This includes exchange of assistance that is due to beneficiaries and concerned populations.

ANY SEXUAL RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THOSE PROVIDING HUMANITARIAN ASSISTANCE AND PROTECTION and a person benefiting from such humanitarian assistance and protection that involves improper use of rank or position is prohibited. Such relationships undermine the credibility and integrity of humanitarian aid work.

Where a humanitarian worker develops concerns or suspicions regarding sexual abuse or exploitation by a fellow worker, whether in the same agency or not, THEY MUST REPORT such concerns via established agency reporting mechanisms.

Humanitarian workers ARE OBLIGED TO CREATE AND MAINTAIN AN ENVIRONMENT WHICH PREVENTS SEXUAL EXPLOITATION AND ABUSE AND PROMOTES THE IMPLEMENTATION OF THEIR CODE OF CONDUCT. Managers at all levels have particular responsibilities to support and develop systems which maintain this environment.

ALL HUMANITARIAN PERSONNEL ARE REPORTING CONCERN INCIDENTS AS A PRIORITY POINT OF ANY SERVICE PROVIDED IN THE AMERICAS, REGARDLESS OF WHICH COUNTRY THE INCIDENT OCCURS.
